

U.S. Department of Agriculture
Food and Nutrition Service
Administrative Review Branch

Garland Food Market,

Appellant,

V.

Retailer Operations Division,

Respondent.

Case Number: C0222559

FINAL AGENCY DECISION

It is the decision of the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA), Food and Nutrition Service (FNS), that there is sufficient evidence to support a six-month disqualification of Garland Food Market (hereinafter Appellant), from participation as an authorized retailer in the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) as initially imposed by the Retailer Operations Division.

ISSUE

The issue accepted for review is whether the Retailer Operations Division took appropriate action, consistent with Title 7 Code of Federal Regulations (CFR) Part 278 in its administration of the SNAP, when it imposed a six-month disqualification against Appellant.

AUTHORITY

7 U.S.C. § 2023 and the implementing regulations at 7 CFR § 279.1 provides that “[A] food retailer or wholesale food concern aggrieved by administrative action under § 278.1, § 278.6 or § 278.7 . . . may file a written request for review of the administrative action with FNS.”

CASE CHRONOLOGY

The USDA conducted an investigation of the compliance of Garland Food Market, with Federal SNAP law and regulations from July 22, 2019 through October 8, 2019. In a letter dated November 6, 2019, Retailer Operations Division charged the Appellant firm with accepting SNAP benefits in exchange for merchandise which included common ineligible non-food items in violation of 7 CFR § 278.2(a). These SNAP violations occurred on four (4) out of five (5) compliance visits. The letter further informed the Appellant that the violations warranted a disqualification period of six months as provided in 7 CFR § 278.6(e)(5).

In a November 8, 2019, telephone conversation with Retailer Operations Division, Appellant indicated that she asked her employees about the violations and they did not remember the transactions. Appellant indicated that she does not work in the store because she is a nurse and that she does not condone or approve of the program violations. She also indicated that she doesn't think the employees engaged in the violations on purpose and if they happened, the violations would have been the result of a mistake or an employee overlooking the ineligible item.

After reviewing the evidence and the response from the Appellant, Retailer Operations Division issued a determination letter dated August 5, 2019. The determination letter informed the Appellant it was disqualified from the SNAP for a period of six months in accordance with 7 CFR § 278.6(a) and (e). The determination letter also stated that Retailer Operations Division considered Appellant's eligibility for a hardship CMP under 7 CFR § 278.6(f)(1). Retailer Operations Division determined that the Appellant was not eligible for the hardship CMP in lieu of the six-month disqualification because there were other authorized retail stores in the area selling as large a variety of staple foods at comparable prices.

In a letter dated November 22, 2019, the Appellant requested an administrative review of the Retailer Operations Division's determination. The appeal was accepted and the implementation of the six-month disqualification was held in abeyance pending completion of this review.

STANDARD OF REVIEW

In appeals of adverse actions, an appellant bears the burden of proving by a preponderance of the evidence, that the administrative actions should be reversed. That means an appellant has the burden of providing relevant evidence which a reasonable mind, considering the record as a whole, would accept as sufficient to support a conclusion that the matter asserted is more likely to be true than not true.

CONTROLLING LAW

The controlling statute in this matter is contained in the Food & Nutrition Act of 2008, as amended, 7 U.S.C. § 2021, and promulgated through regulation under Title 7 CFR Part 278. In particular, 7 CFR § 278.6(a) and (e) establish the authority upon which a period of disqualification may be imposed against a retail food store or wholesale food concern.

7 CFR § 278.2(a) states, inter alia: "Coupons may be accepted by an authorized retail food store only from eligible households.... Only in exchange for eligible food"

7 CFR § 271.2 states, inter alia: "Eligible food means: Any food or food product intended for human consumption except alcoholic beverages, tobacco and hot food and hot food products prepared for immediate consumption"

7 CFR § 278.6(a) states, inter alia: "FNS may disqualify any authorized retail food store... if the firm fails to comply with the Food and Nutrition Act of 1977, as amended, or this part.

Such disqualification shall result from a finding of a violation on the basis of evidence that may include facts established through on-site investigations...

7 CFR § 278.6(e)(5) states, inter alia: “Disqualify the firm for 6 months if it is to be the first sanction for the firm and the evidence shows that personnel of the firm have committed violations such as, but not limited to, the sale of common nonfood items due to carelessness or poor supervision by the firm’s ownership or management.”

7 CFR § 278.6(f)(1) states, inter alia: “FNS may impose a civil money penalty as a sanction in lieu of when... the firm’s disqualification would cause hardship to Food Stamp [SNAP] households because there is no other authorized retail food store in the area selling as large a variety of staple food items at comparable prices.”

APPELLANT’S CONTENTIONS

The Appellant made the following summarized contentions in its request for administrative review, in relevant part:

1. My firm has a large variety of foods that we have available for sell in the store. We have enclosed copies of receipts to show the adequate number of variety items that we have available for all customers.
2. I request other remedies action for the violation other than the six months disqualification. SNAP plays a key role in generating income for my business. Without the option of offering SNAP to customers for six months my business will lose customers and income will decrease. The disqualification will affect employee’s jobs and income as we will have less customer and income to pay the employees.

Appellant provided five (5) pages of purchase receipts in support of its position. The preceding may represent only a brief summary of the Appellant’s contentions presented in this matter. Please be assured, however, in reaching a decision, full attention was given to all contentions presented, including any not specifically recapitulated or specifically referenced herein.

ANALYSIS AND FINDINGS

FNS initially authorized Garland Food Market as a convenience store on September 29, 2015. During an investigation from July 22, 2019 through October 8, 2019, the USDA conducted five (5) compliance visits at Appellant’s store. A report of the investigation was provided to the Appellant as an attachment to the charge letter dated November 6, 2019. The investigation report included Exhibits A through E, which provide full details on the results of each compliance visit. The investigation report documents that SNAP violations were committed during four (4) of the five (5) compliance visits. They involved the sale of two (2) packs of 48 count Party! heavy duty plastic cutlery set (16-Spoons, 16-Fork and 16-Knives), one (1) pack of 50 count 12 ounce Hy-Top foam bowls, one (1) box of 48 count Basic Home plastic forks, one (1) pack of 30 count 8 7/8 inch foam plates strong and soak proof, two (2) 15 count 20 ounce foam bowls for hot and cold foods, one (1) roll of Georgia Pacific pm toilet paper 473 sheets per roll, one (1) pack of 24 count Party! super heavy duty cutlery set (8-Spoons, 8-Forks and 8-Knives), and one (1) 52.5 square foot roll of Georgia Pacific POM 2-ply toilet paper @ 473 sheets per roll. A clerk refused the exchange of SNAP benefits for cash in Exhibit E. Also, in Exhibit B, a clerk refused to allow the purchase of one (1) roll of toilet paper and one (1) box of plastic spoons in exchange for SNAP benefits.

Appellant did not deny that the violations took place during the investigation. With regard to Appellant's contentions it is important to note that as owner of the store, Appellant is liable for all volatile transactions handled by either paid or unpaid store personnel. Regardless of whom the ownership of a store may utilize to handle store business, ownership is accountable for the proper handling of SNAP benefit transactions. To allow store ownership to disclaim accountability for the acts of persons whom the ownership chooses to utilize to handle store business would render virtually meaningless the enforcement provisions of the Food Stamp Act and the enforcement efforts of the USDA. Additionally, a record of participation in SNAP with no previously documented instance of violations does not constitute valid grounds for dismissal of the current charges of violations or for mitigating the impact of those charges.

It is recognized that some degree of economic hardship is a likely consequence whenever a store is disqualified from participation in SNAP. However, there is no provision in the SNAP regulations for waiver or reduction of an administrative penalty assessment on the basis of possible economic hardship to the firm resulting from imposition of such penalty. To allow store ownership from being excused from assessed administrative penalties based on purported economic hardship to the firm would render virtually meaningless the enforcement provisions of the Food and Nutrition Act of 2008, as amended, and the enforcement efforts of the USDA.

Moreover, giving special consideration to economic hardship to the firm would forsake fairness and equity, not only to competing stores and other participating retailers who are complying fully with program regulations, but also to those retailers who have been disqualified from the program in the past for similar violations. Therefore, Appellant's contention that the firm may incur economic hardship based on the assessment of an administrative penalty does not provide any valid basis for dismissing the charges or for mitigating the penalty imposed.

Furthermore, it is important to clarify for the record that the purpose of this review is to determine if the earlier decision of the Retailer Operations Division, to disqualify Appellant from participation in the SNAP for a period of six months, was in fact a correct one. It is not within the scope of this review to consider what subsequent actions Appellant may have taken so that its store may begin to comply with program requirements.

Appellant requested other remedies for the violation other than a six month disqualification. With regard to this contention, FNS may send a warning letter in lieu of a disqualification only under specific circumstances. SNAP regulations at 7 CFR §278.6(e)(7) states that FNS should "send the firm a warning letter if violations are too limited to warrant a disqualification. The Agency clarifies the regulations and states to "send the firm a warning letter if the investigation discloses only one or two sales of common ineligible items." As previously noted, the investigation report documents the exchange of 10 common ineligible items during four (4) visits. Therefore, as clarified by the Agency, these violations do not meet the definition of “violations that are too limited to warrant a disqualification” and are evidence of carelessness on the part of ownership or management.

Based on a review of the evidence in this case, there is no question that program violations did occur. Clerks working at Appellant sold common ineligible items to an FNS investigator on four (4) separate investigative visits. The investigative record is specific and accurate with regard to the dates of the violations, the exchange of SNAP benefits for ineligible items, and in all other critically pertinent detail. As such, the contentions presented do not constitute valid grounds for dismissal of the current charges of violations, or for mitigating the impact of those charges. Based on a review of the evidence in this case, it appears that the SNAP violations at issue did, occur as charged.

CIVIL MONEY PENALTY

Appellant requested consideration of a civil money penalty. Retailer Operations Division considered Appellant’s eligibility for a hardship CMP under 7 CFR §278.6(f)(1). The Retailer Operations Division determined that the Appellant was not eligible for the hardship CMP in lieu of the six-month disqualification because there were at least 24 SNAP authorized retailers within a one-mile radius of Appellant. These retailers included five (5) combination other type stores, 14 additional convenience stores, two (2) small grocery stores, one (1) medium grocery store, one (1) large grocery store, and one (1) super store, and all are selling as large a variety of staple foods at comparable prices.

CONCLUSION

The documentation presented by Retailer Operations Division provides through a preponderance of the evidence that the violations as reported occurred at the Appellant firm. 7 CFR § 278.6(e)(5) specifies that FNS shall “disqualify the firm for six months if it is to be the first sanction for the firm and the evidence shows that personnel of the firm have committed violations such as, but not limited to, the sale of common nonfood items due to carelessness or poor supervision by the firm’s ownership or management.

The violations were determined by Retailer Operations Division to represent the first sanction for the firm and evidence carelessness and poor supervision. Therefore, the imposition of a six-month disqualification, the least severe penalty allowed by regulation, is appropriate.

It is therefore established that the violations as described in the letter of charges did in fact occur at the Appellant firm warranting a disqualification of six months in accordance with 7 CFR § 278.6(e)(5). Based on the discussion herein, the decision to impose a six-month disqualification against Garland Food Market is appropriate and the action is sustained.

In accordance with the Act and regulations, the six-month period of disqualification shall become effective thirty (30) days after receipt of this letter. The Appellant may submit a new application for SNAP participation ten (10) days prior to the expiration of the six-month disqualification period.

RIGHTS AND REMEDIES

Your attention is called to Section 14 of the Food and Nutrition Act of 2008, as amended, (7 U.S.C. § 2023) and to Title 7, Code of Federal Regulations, Part 279.7 (7 CFR § 279.7) with respect to your right to a judicial review of this determination. Please note that if a judicial review is desired, the Complaint, naming the United States as the defendant, must be filed in the U.S. District Court for the district in which you reside or are engaged in business, or in any court of record of the State having competent jurisdiction. If any Complaint is filed, it must be filed within thirty (30) days of receipt of this Decision.

Under the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA), we are releasing this information in a redacted format as appropriate. FNS will protect, to the extent provided by law, personal information that could constitute an unwarranted invasion of privacy.

Monique Brooks
ADMINISTRATIVE REVIEW OFFICER

March 31, 2020