

U.S. Department of Agriculture
Food and Nutrition Service
Administrative Review Branch

La Loteria Market,

Appellant,

v.

Retailer Operations Division,

Respondent.

Case Number: C0236674

FINAL AGENCY DECISION

It is the decision of the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA), Food and Nutrition Service (FNS), that there is sufficient evidence to support a finding that a six month disqualification from participating as an authorized retailer in the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) was properly imposed against La Loteria Market (hereinafter “La Loteria Market” or “Appellant”) by the Retailer Operations Division of FNS.

ISSUE

The issue accepted for review is whether the Retailer Operations Division took appropriate action, consistent with Title 7 Code of Federal Regulations (CFR) Part 278 in its administration of the SNAP, when it imposed a six month period of disqualification against La Loteria Market.

AUTHORITY

7 U.S.C. § 2023 and its implementing regulations at 7 CFR § 279.1 provide that “[A] food retailer or wholesale food concern aggrieved by administrative action under § 278.1, § 278.6 or § 278.7 . . . may file a written request for review of the administrative action with FNS.

CASE CHRONOLOGY

The Department of Agriculture conducted an investigation of the compliance of La Loteria Market with Federal SNAP law and regulations during the period December 29, 2020 through January 20, 2021. In a letter dated February 3, 2021, the Retailer Operations Division charged the Appellant with accepting SNAP benefits in exchange for merchandise which included ineligible nonfood items in violation of 7 CFR § 278.2(a). These SNAP violations occurred on three out of three compliance visits. The letter further informed the Appellant that the violations warranted a disqualification period of six months as provided in 7 CFR § 278.6(e)(5). The letter also stated that under certain conditions, FNS may impose a hardship civil money penalty (CMP) in lieu of a disqualification as provided in 7 CFR § 278.6(f)(1).

The charge letter noted that per SNAP regulations Section 278.6(b), the Appellant has the right to present any information, explanation or evidence regarding the charges and must reply within 10 calendar days of the date of receipt of the charge letter. Per UPS confirmation of delivery, the charge letter was delivered to the Appellant at the store address of record on February 4, 2021.

The Appellant did not respond to the charges outlined in the February 3, 2021 charge letter within the 10 day calendar day required timeframe. After giving consideration to the evidence of this case, the Retailer Operations Division issued a determination letter dated February 17, 2021. The determination letter informed the Appellant that the firm was disqualified from the SNAP for a period of six months in accordance with 7 CFR § 278.6(a) and (e). The determination letter also stated that the Retailer Operations Division considered the Appellant's eligibility for a hardship civil money penalty under 7 CFR § 278.6(f)(1). The Retailer Operations Division determined that the Appellant was not eligible for the hardship CMP in lieu of the six month disqualification because there were other authorized retail stores in the area selling as large a variety of staple foods at comparable prices.

In a letter postmarked February 24, 2021, the Appellant appealed the Retailer Operations Division's assessment and requested an administrative review of this action. FNS granted the Appellant's request for administrative review by letter dated March 4, 2021. Upon acceptance of the administrative review request, implementation of the six month disqualification was held in abeyance pending completion of this review. In an email correspondence of March 24, 2021, the Appellant, through counsel, submitted additional information in support of the request for administrative review.

STANDARD OF REVIEW

In appeals of adverse actions, the Appellant bears the burden of proving by a preponderance of the evidence, that the administrative actions should be reversed. That means the Appellant has the burden of providing relevant evidence which a reasonable mind, considering the record as a whole, might accept as sufficient to support a conclusion that the matter asserted is more likely to be true than not true.

CONTROLLING LAW AND REGULATIONS

The controlling statute in this matter is contained in the Food and Nutrition Act of 2008, as amended, 7 U.S.C. § 2021, and promulgated through regulations under Title 7 CFR Part 278. In particular, 7 CFR § 278.6(a) and (e) establish the authority upon which a disqualification may be imposed against a retail food store or wholesale food concern.

7 CFR § 278.2(a) states, inter alia:

Coupons may be accepted by an authorized retail food store only from eligible households . . . only in exchange for eligible food.

7 CFR § 271.2 states, inter alia:

Eligible foods means: Any food or food product intended for human consumption except alcoholic beverages, tobacco and hot food and hot food products prepared for immediate consumption.

7 CFR § 278.6(a) states, inter alia:

FNS may disqualify any authorized retail food store . . . if the firm fails to comply with the Food and Nutrition Act of 2008, as amended, or this part. Such disqualification shall result from a finding of a violation on the basis of evidence that may include facts established through on-site investigations.

7 CFR § 278.6(e)(5) states, inter alia:

Disqualify the firm for 6 months if it is to be the first sanction for the firm and the evidence shows that personnel of the firm have committed violations such as, but not limited to, the sale of common nonfood items due to carelessness or poor supervision by the firm's ownership or management.

7 CFR § 278.6(f)(1) states, inter alia:

FNS may impose a civil money penalty as a sanction in lieu of disqualification when . . . the firm's disqualification would cause hardship to Food Stamp [SNAP] households because there is no other authorized retail food store in the area selling as large a variety of staple food items at comparable prices.

SUMMARY OF THE CHARGES

During an investigation conducted from December 29, 2020 through January 20, 2021, USDA conducted three compliance visits at La Loteria Market. A report of the investigation was provided to the Appellant as an attachment to the charge letter dated February 3, 2021. The investigation report included Exhibits A through C which provide full details on the results of each compliance visit. The investigation report documents that SNAP violations were recorded during three of the three compliance visits and involved the sale of a variety of items best described in regulatory terms as "common nonfood items" and a "major nonfood item". The misuse of SNAP benefits noted in Exhibits A, B, and C warrant a disqualification as a SNAP retail food store for a period of six months. The exchange of these ineligible items for SNAP benefits is in violation of 7 CFR § 278.2(a).

APPELLANT'S CONTENTIONS

The following represents a brief summary of the Appellant's contentions in this matter. Please be assured, however, that in reaching a decision, full attention and consideration was given to all contentions presented, including any not specifically recapitulated or specifically referenced herein.

In the administrative review request and in subsequent correspondence, the Appellant, through counsel, stated the following summarized contentions, in relevant part:

- The Appellant was established by 5 U.S.C. § 552 (b)(6) & (b)(7)(C) in 2018. The point of sale equipment used currently by the store is the same that existed when the owner purchased the store. Because the point of sale system in place does not automatically alert employees when a purchase involves items that do not qualify under SNAP, employees need to be alert at the cash register and inform customers who need to pay in cash for nonfood items.
- The owner's daughter is now assisting her father full-time in ownership/management of the Appellant. She made sure that her father and aunt, who both spend time working the cash register, were trained with USDA provided materials on what products could be purchased with SNAP benefits. She has always made sure when working the cash register to exclude from SNAP purchases any nonfood items as well as hot and prepared foods.
- The investigation reports indicates that along with grocery purchases, small kitchen related items such as a sponge, soap, foil, paper towels, and Ziploc bags were purchased with SNAP benefits on three occasions. These sales occurred through innocent mistakes, not any purposeful attempt to evade SNAP sales.
- The Appellant has taken extreme measures and training on the SNAP rules to get this behavior immediately corrected. Following notice of this matter from USDA, the Appellant promptly undertook actions to retrain family members helping at the cash register to emphasize the need to consistently exclude non-qualifying purchases. Going forward, the Appellant intends to conduct periodic training at the firm to make sure employees stay up to date with SNAP requirements. The Appellant is committed to making sure there are no mistakes going forward.
- The Appellant is a small, family owned grocery store located on East Lake Street in Minneapolis. That neighborhood has experienced severe hardship in 2020 due to the pandemic and the riots of protest. The Appellant cited published articles in support of the devastation to small businesses and grocery stores in the area. The Appellant was heavily impacted by the protests as it was vandalized and looted. A SNAP disqualification could risk the viability of the firm as a healthy business.
- The Appellant is providing a critical service right now to the Minneapolis community, in a neighborhood that has suffered greatly. A SNAP disqualification will impose hardship on some community members who have limited ability to travel as there are few options in the neighborhood which is still trying to recover.

In support of these contentions, the Appellant, through counsel, submitted a signed and notarized affidavit of 5 U.S.C. § 552 (b)(6) & (b)(7)(C).

ANALYSIS AND FINDINGS

SNAP Violations

This review is to either validate or to invalidate the determination made by the Retailer Operations Division; it is limited to the facts at the basis of the Retailer Operations Division's determination at the time it was made.

When store ownership signed the certification page of the SNAP retailer authorization application to become a SNAP retailer, it confirmed it understood and agreed to abide by program rules and regulatory provisions. It also agreed to accept responsibility on behalf of the firm for SNAP violations including those committed by any of the firm's employees, paid or unpaid, new, full-time or part-time. The certification is clear that store ownership understood by signing the document that violations of program rules can result in administrative actions such as fines, sanctions, withdrawal, or disqualification from the SNAP.

The transactions cited in the letter of charges were conducted by a USDA investigator and are thoroughly documented. A complete review of this documentation has yielded no known error or discrepancy. The investigation report is specific and thorough with regard to the dates of the violations, the specific facts related thereto, and is supported by documentation that confirms specific details of the transactions.

The FNS investigative report shows that two employees working at the Appellant firm accepted SNAP benefits for ineligible nonfood items on three separate occasions during the investigative period indicating an ongoing pattern of SNAP violations as defined by Section 271.2 of the SNAP regulations. The investigation report documents by a preponderance of the evidence that the store employees engaged in the misuse of SNAP benefits noted in Exhibits A, B, and C warranting a disqualification as a SNAP retail food store for a period of six months.

The Appellant contends that the point of sale equipment used currently by the store is the same that existed when the owner purchased the store and does not automatically alert employees when a purchase involves items that do not qualify under SNAP. The sales of ineligible nonfood items occurred through innocent mistakes, not any purposeful attempt to evade SNAP sales. However, regardless of who the store owner utilizes to handle store business, ownership is accountable for the proper handling of SNAP benefit transactions. The regulations establish that an authorized food store may be disqualified from participating in the program when the store fails to comply with the Act or regulations because of the wrongful conduct of an owner, manager, or someone acting on their behalf.

The Appellant contends that along with grocery purchases, small kitchen related items such as a sponge, soap, foil, paper towels, and Ziploc bags were purchased with SNAP benefits on three occasions. Neither the Food and Nutrition Act of 2008, as amended, nor the regulations issued pursuant thereto cite any minimum dollar amount of SNAP benefits for transactions involving the sale of ineligible items to be defined as violative. No mention of minimum cost or types of ineligibles is cited in Section 278.6(e)(5) of the SNAP regulations, which states that FNS shall disqualify a store for six months if it is to be the first sanction for the firm and the evidence shows that personnel of the firm have committed violations such as, but not limited to, the sale of common nonfood items in exchange for SNAP benefits due to carelessness by store employees or poor supervision by the firm's ownership or management.

SNAP benefits, in general, are only authorized to be used for the purchase of foods for the household to eat as well as seeds and plants which produce food for the household to eat. The common nonfood items purchased are clearly not edible foods and are not plants or seeds, so one has to question the level of training the employee received by store ownership and/or management. The basic concept of "if you can't eat it, you can't buy it using SNAP" is not a difficult one for employees to grasp, yet the employees allowed the purchase of ineligible items using SNAP benefits on multiple occasions.

The owner contends that she made sure that her father and aunt, who both spend time working the cash register, were trained with USDA provided materials on what products could be purchased with SNAP benefits. She has always made sure when working the cash register to exclude from SNAP purchases any nonfood items as well as hot and prepared foods. However, had an effective compliance policy and program been in effect at the firm, it is unlikely that the employees would have made such obvious mistakes. The more likely explanation is that store ownership and/or management failed to properly train and subsequently supervise the employees. Additionally, had store ownership and/or management been supervising the employees through occasionally monitoring them using videotape, if available, or in person, it would have readily noticed that they were allowing the sale of ineligible nonfood items in exchange for SNAP benefits. It also would have been immediately evident to store ownership and/or management that the employees were deficient in their knowledge of SNAP rules and regulations had it periodically spot checked the employees' knowledge and abilities by asking questions about SNAP eligible/ineligible items. Either of these basic supervisory techniques would have provided a no cost method for store ownership and/or management to ensure that store employees were not putting the firm's SNAP authorization at risk.

These are clear signs of poor or no supervision by store ownership and/or management. It is highly improbable, based on the willingness of the employees to exchange SNAP benefits for ineligible nonfood items, that the only instances of SNAP violations were those transactions identified as part of the FNS undercover investigation. These actions more likely than not represent an ongoing pattern of SNAP violations at the Appellant firm. Under SNAP regulations, the penalty for allowing the purchase of ineligible nonfood items using SNAP benefits as the result of poor supervision by ownership or management is a six month disqualification. The regulations do allow SNAP retailers to pay a hardship CMP, if eligible, as explained in the next section.

In appeals of adverse actions, the Appellant bears the burden of proving by a preponderance of the evidence, that the administrative actions should be reversed. That means the Appellant has the burden of providing relevant evidence which a reasonable mind, considering the record as a whole, might accept as sufficient to support a conclusion that the matter asserted is more likely to be true than not true. The Appellant did not provide any evidence that the violations cited in the charge letter did not occur.

Based on this discussion, the decision by the Retailer Operations Division to disqualify the firm for a six month period was the appropriate penalty and there is no valid basis for dismissing the charges or for mitigating the penalty imposed.

Corrective Action

The owner contends that she has taken extreme measures and training on the SNAP rules to get this behavior immediately corrected. Following notice of this matter from USDA, the Appellant promptly undertook actions to retrain family members helping at the cash register to emphasize the need to consistently exclude non-qualifying purchases. Going forward, the Appellant intends to conduct periodic training at the firm to make sure employees stay up to date with SNAP requirements.

As noted previously, the purpose of this review is to either validate or to invalidate the earlier decision of the Retailer Operations Division. This review is limited to what circumstances were at the basis of the Retailer Operations Division action at the time such action was made. It is not the authority of this review to consider what subsequent remedial actions may have been taken so that the store may begin to comply with program requirements. There is no provision in the SNAP regulations or internal agency policy directives for waiver or reduction of an administrative penalty assessment on the basis of after-the-fact corrective action implemented subsequent to investigative findings of program violations. Therefore, the Appellant's contention that it has taken or will take corrective actions, though they would have been valuable towards preventing future program violations, does not provide any valid basis for dismissing the charges or for mitigating the penalty imposed.

Financial Hardship

With regards to the Appellant's contentions that a SNAP disqualification will impose a financial hardship to the firm, it is recognized that some degree of economic hardship is a likely consequence whenever a store is disqualified from participation in SNAP. However, there is no provision in the SNAP regulations for waiver or reduction of an administrative penalty assessment on the basis of possible economic hardship to the firm or to ownership resulting from imposition of such penalty. To allow ownership to be excused from an assessed administrative penalty based on purported economic hardship to the firm would render virtually meaningless the enforcement provisions of the Food and Nutrition Act of 2008, as amended, and the enforcement efforts of the USDA.

Furthermore, giving special consideration to economic hardship to the firm would forsake fairness and equity, not only to competing stores and other participating retailers who are complying fully with program regulations, but also to those retailers who have been disqualified from the program in the past for similar violations. Therefore, Appellant's contention that the firm may incur economic hardship based on the assessment of an administrative penalty does not provide any valid basis for dismissing the charges or for mitigating the penalty imposed.

CIVIL MONEY PENALTY

With regards to the Appellant's contentions that a SNAP disqualification will impose a hardship on area SNAP customers, the Retailer Operations Division determined that the Appellant was not eligible for a hardship civil money penalty (CMP) under 7 CFR § 278.6(f)(1). That regulation reads, in part, "FNS may impose a civil money penalty as a sanction in lieu of disqualification when . . . the firm's disqualification would cause hardship to [SNAP] households because there is no other authorized retail food store in the area selling as large a variety of staple food items at comparable prices." [Emphasis added]. 5 U.S.C. § 552 (b)(7)(E).

Based on the evidence, the disqualification of La Loteria Market would not cause a hardship to SNAP recipients in the area, as opposed to a mere inconvenience; therefore, the Retailer Operations Division's decision not to assess a hardship CMP in lieu of a six month disqualification is sustained as appropriate under 7 CFR § 278.6(f)(1).

CONCLUSION

It is therefore established that the violations as described in the letter of charges did in fact occur at La Loteria Market warranting a disqualification of six months in accordance with 7 CFR § 278.6(e)(5). That regulation states that FNS shall "disqualify the firm for 6 months if it is to be the first sanction for the firm and the evidence shows that personnel of the firm have committed violations such as, but not limited to, the sale of common nonfood items due to carelessness or poor supervision by the firm's ownership or management". Therefore, the decision to impose a six month disqualification, the least severe penalty allowed by regulation, against La Loteria Market, the Appellant firm, is appropriate and the action is sustained.

In accordance with the Food and Nutrition Act of 2008 and the regulations there under, the six month period of disqualification shall become effective thirty (30) days after receipt of this letter. A new application for participation may be submitted by the firm ten (10) days prior to the expiration of this six month period.

RIGHTS AND REMEDIES

Your attention is called to Section 14 of the Food and Nutrition Act (7 U.S.C. 2023) and to Section 279.7 of the Regulations (7 CFR § 279.7) with respect to your right to a judicial review of this determination. Please note that if a judicial review is desired, the Complaint, naming the United States as the defendant, must be filed in the U.S. District Court for the district in which you reside or are engaged in business, or in any court of record of the State having competent jurisdiction. If any Complaint is filed, it must be filed within thirty (30) days of receipt of this Decision.

Under the Freedom of Information Act, FNS is releasing this information in a redacted format as appropriate. FNS will protect, to the extent provided by law, personal information that could constitute an unwarranted invasion of privacy.

LORIE L. CONNEEN
ADMINISTRATIVE REVIEW OFFICER

April 14, 2021